Genesee County Website Upgraded

Genesee County Board Chairman, Jamie Curtis outlined a new and enhanced Genesee County Website. The address for the website is <http://gc4me.com/>. Curtis commented on the website effort, "Our County must have a coherent web presence that is easily usable by the public. The new site has already helped citizens conduct their business with over 500 daily hits using our online service and online forms links. Our goal is to keep working on the site until we have a state of the art "One Stop Shop" for the public. Additionally, we are building a performance dashboard that will give a transparent view of County government using clearly identified performance measures. We encourage you to take a look"

Genesee County Finance Chairman Patrick "Shorty" Gleason added, "The web site provides the public with more information than ever before and they can get it from home or anywhere anytime of the day or night. This new website site will help to make Genesee County more competitive in conducting County business and help our bottom line."
