SECTION 6 - INTRODUCTION

1. The Genesee County Metropolitan Planning Commission (GCMPC) is soliciting proposals for a Roundabout Implementation Study of Genesee County Intersections. The focus of this project is to 1) perform a preliminary skim analysis of Genesee County intersections providing a suitability score for potential roundabout compatibility for each intersection, 2) provide a more detailed secondary analysis of a select number of intersections with a high suitability score, 3) perform Early Preliminary Engineering (EPE), including a microsimulation model analysis, for a select number of intersections that have been identified as suitable for roundabouts from the preliminary and secondary analysis, 4) collect digital aerial drone video of peak time intersection performance for a select number of intersections that are either planned to be converted to roundabouts or have been identified as having a high suitability for roundabout conversion as part of this study, 5) and a final report documenting the analysis conducted for the study and detailing study recommendations.

SECTION 7 – BACKGROUND

1. The Genesee County Metropolitan Planning Commission (GCMPC) is the Metropolitan Planning Organization (MPO) responsible for administering the federal transportation planning process in Genesee County. The project is federally funded through the Federal Highway Administration (FHWA).
2. The first roundabout in Genesee County was completed in 2016 and more road agencies are beginning to consider converting additional intersections to roundabouts. In 2019 GCMPC conducted a preliminary skim analysis of roundabout compatibility as part of the development of a 2045 long range comprehensive plan for the county to assist local road agencies in identifying intersections that may or may not be suitable for conversion to a roundabout. To start the analysis staff developed a scoring system to help assess intersection compatibility for conversion to a roundabout. Information relevant to the scoring criteria was collected on a select number of intersections in Genesee County and put into a Geographic Information System (GIS). The information was used to provide a preliminary roundabout compatibility score for each of the intersections studied. This information is intended to be used as a starting point for identifying intersections that may or may not be candidates for future roundabout conversions.

SECTION 8 - SCOPE OF WORK

1. The purpose of this RFP is for the selected consultant to analyze road intersections in Genesee County and provide recommendations for the location of future roundabouts. To accomplish this the prospective consultants should submit a proposal which will encompass the following items and include a timeline for deliverables and important milestones:
 - a) Perform a preliminary skim analysis of Genesee County intersections providing a suitability score for potential roundabout compatibility for each intersection. The consultant will review and refine the preliminary intersection roundabout compatibility scoring criteria and skim analysis conducted by GCMPC as a starting point for this task. The deliverables for this task will be a report and a GIS file of the analysis.

- b) Conduct a more detailed secondary analysis of a select number of intersections (please provide an estimate of the number of intersections budgeted for this task) with a high suitability score from the preliminary skim analysis. The consultant will work with GCMPC staff to select intersections for secondary analysis. The analysis in this task will help to further determine an intersections suitability for conversion to a roundabout and will be used to identify intersections that are good candidates for further microsimulation model analysis. Deliverables for this task will include a report of the secondary analysis and corresponding GIS files.
- c) Perform Early Preliminary Engineering (EPE), including a microsimulation model analysis, for a select number of intersections (please provide an estimate of the number of intersections budgeted for this task) that have been identified as suitable for roundabout conversion from the preliminary and secondary analysis. The consultant will work with GCMPC staff to select intersections for EPE and microsimulation model analysis. The consultant will collect the data required for the EPE and microsimulation analysis for each intersection. Each intersection selected for this task will be modeled to simulate current intersection traffic flow and to simulate traffic flow after conversion to a roundabout. Deliverables for this task will include a written report and EPE for each of the selected intersections for this task providing recommendations on roundabout suitability, microsimulation files for each intersection, and digital video files of before and after simulations of each intersection analyzed for this task.
- d) Collect digital aerial drone video of the peak time intersection performance for a select number of intersections (please provide an estimate of the number of intersections budgeted for this task) that are either planned to be converted to roundabouts or have been identified as having a high suitability for roundabout conversion as part of this study. Collect digital aerial drone video of the peak time intersection performance of existing Genesee County roundabouts. Deliverables for this task include digital aerial drone video of current roundabouts and selected intersections.
- e) A final report documenting the analysis conducted for the study and detailing study recommendations. All reports developed as part of this RFP will be provided to GCMPC staff as digital Microsoft Word and Adobe PDF files.
